Understanding and breaking down systemic racism in healthcare to help support birthing and breastfeeding parents who indemnify as black.

At the conclusion of this webinar, participants will be able to:

- Define systemic racism in the healthcare settings and name at least three systemic racism practices.
- Identify how bias can effect care and perspective.
- Identify at least three different cultural practices of black families in America.
- Develop ways to make the hospital setting safe for black women to birth and receive skilled lactation care for their breastfeeding infants.
